

Traci Simonsen

Jupiter Medical Center is pleased to announce that Traci Simonsen has been promoted to Chief Philanthropy Officer of Jupiter Medical Center Foundation, effective immediately. Simonsen joined the Foundation in June 2022 as the Associate Vice President of Philanthropy.

Since joining Jupiter Medical Center Foundation, Simonsen has worked diligently to expand philanthropic avenues to increase financial support for Jupiter Medical Center.

Before joining Jupiter Medical Center Foundation, Simonsen was the Executive Director of Major and Planned Gifts for Norton Healthcare and Children's Hospital Foundations, where she helped build one of the most successful fundraising teams in Louisville, Kentucky. Prior to moving into medical fundraising, Simonsen worked in philanthropy at the Kentucky Center for the Arts and the University of Louisville.

Simonsen has a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Hawaii and a Master's Degree in Social Work from the University of Louisville. She is a Certified Fundraising Executive and a Licensed Clinical Social Worker.

Jupiter Medical Center is currently undergoing the most transformative period in its history. With a focus on quality, safety and patient satisfaction, the health care system is expanding its depth and breadth of services, increasing its growing geographic footprint and building new alliances.

Notably, the hospital unveiled its $4 million renovation and expansion to its emergency department earlier this year. By the end of the year, it will open its highly anticipated Johnny and Terry Gray Surgical Institute. The 90,000-square-foot Surgical Institute will feature 16 smart operating rooms and two hybrid operating suites. The project met a construction milestone in February 2023 with a celebratory topping-off ceremony, and through the community's generous support, more than $52 million has been raised towards the $100 million project.

For more information about Jupiter Medical Center visit jupitermed.com or call 561.263.2234.

Erin Kozlowski

Erin Kozlowski has joined Gulfstream Goodwill Industries (GGI) as its new Chief Development Officer, according to the nonprofit's CEO, Keith Kennedy. Kozlowski is responsible for directing all development revenue streams of foundations, corporate partners, individual giving and government funding. In addition, she will direct marketing and awareness through internal and external communications for the nonprofit covering Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River and Okeechobee Counties.

Gulfstream Goodwill Industries' mission is to change lives through housing, training, education and employment, while assisting people with disabilities and other barriers to employment to become self-sufficient, working members of the South Florida community. It is the most significant health and human services organization in its five-county region and the largest homelessness provider in its territory. GGI provides shelter to over 300 individuals every night through its four shelters. The organization's homeless prevention services include 200 units of temporary and permanent supportive housing that is safe and affordable for single adults and families who are homeless or at risk.

Kozlowski previously spent 10 years at Special Olympics Florida, most recently as its Senior Vice President. She also held the roles of Chief Development Officer, Senior Regional Vice President of Resource Development and Vice President of Resource Development for Miami-Dade County. During her time with the Special Olympics, she facilitated children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities with year-round sports training, competition and health care. She spearheaded the creation of a new major gifts department as well as assisted in the creation and operation of a new regional department for the thorough planning, execution, administration and supervision of fundraising in Florida's main markets.

Kozlowski received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Marketing and Merchandising Management from the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York. She also studied at the American University of Rome and has taken professional development courses at New York University and Cornell University in Fundraising, Psychology and Women in Leadership.

For more information visit goggi.org or call 561.848.7200.

Anna Green

The Caron Florida Mental Health Program is proud to welcome Anna Green as its newly appointed Lead Mental Health Clinician. Green joins the team with seven years of experience as a psychotherapist in the education, addiction, palliative care and mental health fields. She is originally from the United Kingdom where she worked in an adult mental health inpatient hospital with patients diagnosed with psychotic disorders or borderline personality disorder.

Green received her Master of Arts in Art Therapy from the University of Hertfordshire and a Bachelor of Arts in Fine Art from Nottingham Trent University. She is a qualified Mentalization-Based Treatment (MBT) practitioner trained at the Anna Freud National Center for Children and Families. Additionally, she wrote a chapter, for Arts Therapies and Sexual Offending, a book published in the United Kingdom in 2021.

Dedicated to substance use disorder and behavioral healthcare treatment, research, prevention and addiction medicine education, Caron Treatment Centers has been providing substance use disorder and behavioral health treatment services in Florida for almost 20 years and for nearly 70 years at its headquarters in Wernersville, Pennsylvania.

In addition to Caron Florida operations, Caron provides services at its main campus in Wernersville, Pennsylvania, and in Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., Atlanta and New York City. Caron provides a full continuum of care that includes prevention, treatment and recovery services. Caron provides specialized treatment programs for young adults, women, men and older adults. Caron's signature programming provides concierge treatment for executives and older adults. For more information visit caron.org or caron.org/treatment-programs/mental-health-program.